Dear partner,

We are writing to you after conducting a review of the University of Oslo's international agreements portfolio and have concluded that we will not seek to renew our institutional exchange agreement which expired in 2018.

The University of Oslo focuses on partnerships based on reciprocal academic cooperation, linked to common research interest and embedded locally, on faculty and departmental level. There has been a development in the recent years with an increased number of incoming and outbound exchange students to and from strategic partners.

We wish to thank you for your cooperation throughout the course of our agreement and should anything change in the future we would certainly look to maintain our relationship.

Sincerely yours

Hanna Ekeli
Director
Department of Education Services
